

Current Events in Review

By Edward W. Pickard

Mussolini Takes Part in European War Dance

IT WAS Benito Mussolini's turn to go into the European version of the Italian war dance, following Hitler and Stalin, and he gave a great performance. At Avellino, center of the Italian army maneuvers, he announced to a cheering throng that he could mobilize 600,000 soldiers, "in the course of a few hours and in a simple order." The premier declared the world is in the throes of an irresistible rearmament race and Italy must reject the idea of eternal peace, which he said is "foreign to the creed and to our temperament." He asserted that the armed forces of Italy are more efficient than those of any other nation, and that the 600,000 men engaged in the maneuvers are but a modest and almost insignificant part of the country's actual strength. "We must be always strong," he said. "We must be able to face any eventualities and look directly in the eye whatever may befall."

Germany's new army of a million men, created by Hitler as a consequence of the Ethiopian war and that the 600,000 men engaged in the maneuvers are but a modest and almost insignificant part of the country's actual strength. "We must be always strong," he said. "We must be able to face any eventualities and look directly in the eye whatever may befall."

Germany's new army of a million men, created by Hitler as a consequence of the Ethiopian war and that the 600,000 men engaged in the maneuvers are but a modest and almost insignificant part of the country's actual strength. "We must be always strong," he said. "We must be able to face any eventualities and look directly in the eye whatever may befall."

Ruth Owen Resigns as Minister to Denmark

MRS. RUTH BRYAN OWEN, wife of the late Capt. George Owen of the Danish king's royal household, has resigned as American minister to Denmark in order to be free to continue her work as a private citizen in the election of President Roosevelt, and the President has accepted her resignation. This was done in an exchange of telegrams, that from Mrs. Owen, has had a long career of public service. Before entering the diplomatic service she was secretary of the Danish Red Cross, and she has been a long-time friend of the Danish people.

Ruth Owen Resigns as Minister to Denmark

MRS. RUTH BRYAN OWEN, wife of the late Capt. George Owen of the Danish king's royal household, has resigned as American minister to Denmark in order to be free to continue her work as a private citizen in the election of President Roosevelt, and the President has accepted her resignation. This was done in an exchange of telegrams, that from Mrs. Owen, has had a long career of public service. Before entering the diplomatic service she was secretary of the Danish Red Cross, and she has been a long-time friend of the Danish people.

Ruth Owen Resigns as Minister to Denmark

MRS. RUTH BRYAN OWEN, wife of the late Capt. George Owen of the Danish king's royal household, has resigned as American minister to Denmark in order to be free to continue her work as a private citizen in the election of President Roosevelt, and the President has accepted her resignation. This was done in an exchange of telegrams, that from Mrs. Owen, has had a long career of public service. Before entering the diplomatic service she was secretary of the Danish Red Cross, and she has been a long-time friend of the Danish people.

President Roosevelt's Trip to the South

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S special train left for the South on Monday, headed by the "Great Seal" locomotive. The President's train was accompanied by a large number of officials and a large number of reporters. The President's train was accompanied by a large number of officials and a large number of reporters.

President Roosevelt's Trip to the South

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S special train left for the South on Monday, headed by the "Great Seal" locomotive. The President's train was accompanied by a large number of officials and a large number of reporters. The President's train was accompanied by a large number of officials and a large number of reporters.

President Roosevelt's Trip to the South

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S special train left for the South on Monday, headed by the "Great Seal" locomotive. The President's train was accompanied by a large number of officials and a large number of reporters. The President's train was accompanied by a large number of officials and a large number of reporters.

Stalin Warns Red Army

JOSEPH STALIN, premier of the Soviet Union, has issued a warning to the Red Army to be prepared for any eventuality. He said that the Soviet Union is in a state of readiness and that the Red Army is in a state of readiness.

Stalin Warns Red Army

JOSEPH STALIN, premier of the Soviet Union, has issued a warning to the Red Army to be prepared for any eventuality. He said that the Soviet Union is in a state of readiness and that the Red Army is in a state of readiness.

Stalin Warns Red Army

JOSEPH STALIN, premier of the Soviet Union, has issued a warning to the Red Army to be prepared for any eventuality. He said that the Soviet Union is in a state of readiness and that the Red Army is in a state of readiness.

Polish Army Chief Visits the French

SHOULD war break out in Europe, France counts on having the Polish army on her side. Consequently the week long visit of Gen. Edward Rydz-Smigly, inspector general of that army, and a Polish military mission to France was made the occasion of elaborate ceremonies. The train carrying the Poles crossed the border between Poland and France at the frontier town of Gen. Rydz-Smigly, who is the commanding general of the area and received thousands of troops of the frontier regiments. Going thence to Paris, the Poles were accorded the highest military honors and the crowds in the decorated streets cheered them lustily.

Polish Army Chief Visits the French

SHOULD war break out in Europe, France counts on having the Polish army on her side. Consequently the week long visit of Gen. Edward Rydz-Smigly, inspector general of that army, and a Polish military mission to France was made the occasion of elaborate ceremonies. The train carrying the Poles crossed the border between Poland and France at the frontier town of Gen. Rydz-Smigly, who is the commanding general of the area and received thousands of troops of the frontier regiments. Going thence to Paris, the Poles were accorded the highest military honors and the crowds in the decorated streets cheered them lustily.

Polish Army Chief Visits the French

SHOULD war break out in Europe, France counts on having the Polish army on her side. Consequently the week long visit of Gen. Edward Rydz-Smigly, inspector general of that army, and a Polish military mission to France was made the occasion of elaborate ceremonies. The train carrying the Poles crossed the border between Poland and France at the frontier town of Gen. Rydz-Smigly, who is the commanding general of the area and received thousands of troops of the frontier regiments. Going thence to Paris, the Poles were accorded the highest military honors and the crowds in the decorated streets cheered them lustily.

American Destroyer Peril by Spanish Bombs

SIX bombs dropped from an unidentified Spanish airplane fell perilously near the American destroyer Karneg, which was en route from Gibraltar to Bilbao to help in the removal of Americans from the war zone. The Karneg fired several rounds from an anti-aircraft gun at the plane. Naturally our government was roused to protest. Secretary of State Hull instructed his agents abroad to request both the Spanish government and Gen. Francisco Franco, leader of the rebel forces, to "issue instructions in the strongest terms" to prevent another "incident of this kind." French troops in the north were making a powerful air attack on the scattered many bombs on that border city, and an assault by sea and air forces was expected at any moment. The Spanish government was expected to issue instructions to its troops to keep their promises to the United States, and to prevent any further incidents of this kind.

American Destroyer Peril by Spanish Bombs

SIX bombs dropped from an unidentified Spanish airplane fell perilously near the American destroyer Karneg, which was en route from Gibraltar to Bilbao to help in the removal of Americans from the war zone. The Karneg fired several rounds from an anti-aircraft gun at the plane. Naturally our government was roused to protest. Secretary of State Hull instructed his agents abroad to request both the Spanish government and Gen. Francisco Franco, leader of the rebel forces, to "issue instructions in the strongest terms" to prevent another "incident of this kind." French troops in the north were making a powerful air attack on the scattered many bombs on that border city, and an assault by sea and air forces was expected at any moment. The Spanish government was expected to issue instructions to its troops to keep their promises to the United States, and to prevent any further incidents of this kind.

American Destroyer Peril by Spanish Bombs

SIX bombs dropped from an unidentified Spanish airplane fell perilously near the American destroyer Karneg, which was en route from Gibraltar to Bilbao to help in the removal of Americans from the war zone. The Karneg fired several rounds from an anti-aircraft gun at the plane. Naturally our government was roused to protest. Secretary of State Hull instructed his agents abroad to request both the Spanish government and Gen. Francisco Franco, leader of the rebel forces, to "issue instructions in the strongest terms" to prevent another "incident of this kind." French troops in the north were making a powerful air attack on the scattered many bombs on that border city, and an assault by sea and air forces was expected at any moment. The Spanish government was expected to issue instructions to its troops to keep their promises to the United States, and to prevent any further incidents of this kind.

Transfer of W. C. Bullitt

TRANSFER of William C. Bullitt from the embassy in Moscow to that in Paris is not surprising. He was who was chief of the American Legation in Moscow, and when he was reappointed to the Paris Legation, it was expected he would be able to bring a lot of Russian business to America. The transfer was made by the State Department, and it was expected that Bullitt would be able to bring a lot of Russian business to America.

Transfer of W. C. Bullitt

TRANSFER of William C. Bullitt from the embassy in Moscow to that in Paris is not surprising. He was who was chief of the American Legation in Moscow, and when he was reappointed to the Paris Legation, it was expected he would be able to bring a lot of Russian business to America. The transfer was made by the State Department, and it was expected that Bullitt would be able to bring a lot of Russian business to America.

Transfer of W. C. Bullitt

TRANSFER of William C. Bullitt from the embassy in Moscow to that in Paris is not surprising. He was who was chief of the American Legation in Moscow, and when he was reappointed to the Paris Legation, it was expected he would be able to bring a lot of Russian business to America. The transfer was made by the State Department, and it was expected that Bullitt would be able to bring a lot of Russian business to America.